

Random Notes in Washington:

A Few Tax Riddles

Colonel Glenn's claim for flight pay for his mission raised tax questions about him and other men in the news. Will Francis Gary Powers, the U-2 pilot who spent more than eighteen months in Russian jails, be taxed for the more than $50,000 in back pay due him?

Did Rudolf Abel, the ex-changed Soviet spy, get the customary alien's tax clearance from the Internal Revenue Service before he was allowed out of the country?